2014

Once upon a time... there is a zoo. There are a lot of peacocks in the zoo. One of them is the King of the Peacocks, because he is the most beautiful peacock in this zoo. Tourists always swarm round him.

However, there is another peacock. Its feathers are luminescent but only emit light at night.

A bird sees him and says, “You are so special, and as beautiful as the King of Peacocks. Why you are not the king?”

The peacock says “Because I can only emit light at night, but the zoo doesn’t open at night. So tourists don’t know this. Even people like you know I’m special, I’m still not qualified to be the king.”
